KLAIM PRIVACY POLICY

This privacy policy sets out how KLAIM uses and protects your personal data in accordance with the Saudi Personal Data Protection Law (PDPL) in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia ("KSA")

Klaim collects and uses your personal data to provide and improve its services. This includes information like your name, contact details, and how you use the website. Data is collected directly from you, through your interactions with the site, and from third parties.

Your data is used for things like account setup, service delivery, customer support, marketing (with your consent), and legal compliance. Klaim may share your data with trusted partners and service providers but only for specific purposes.

You have rights over your data, including access, correction, deletion, and objection to certain uses. Klaim takes data security seriously and will notify you promptly if a data breach occurs.

For any privacy-related questions or requests, you can contact Klaim at dataprivacy@klaim.ai

1. Important information and who we are

This privacy policy gives you information about how KLAIM collects and uses your personal data through your use of this website, including any data you may provide when you register with us.

This website is not intended for children, anyone under the age of 18, and we do not knowingly collect personal data relating to children. If we become aware that personal data of a minor has been collected without appropriate consent from a parent or legal guardian, we will take steps to delete such information promptly.

Klaim for Information Technology (“KIT”), a part of the Klaim Group (the (“Group”), is the data controller responsible for this website.

For more information about KIT and the Klaim Group, please see our [●] page.

If you have any questions about this Privacy Policy, including any requests to exercise your legal rights (Your Legal Rights), please contact us using the information set out in the contact details section (Contact Details).

2. The types of personal data we collect about you

Personal data means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified.

We may collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of personal data about you which we have grouped together as follows:

Identity Data

includes first name, last name, any previous names, username or similar identifier, marital status, title, date of birth and gender.

Contact Data

includes business addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers.

Financial Data

includes bank account and payment card details;

Technical Data

includes internet protocol (IP) address, your login data, browser type and version, time zone setting and location, browser plug-in types and versions, operating system and platform, device ID and other technology on the devices you use to access this website.

Transaction Data

includes details about payments to and from you and other details of products and services you have purchased from us;

Profile Data

includes your username and password, preferences, and feedback.

Usage Data

includes information about how you interact with and use our website and services.

Marketing and Communications Data includes your preferences in receiving marketing from us and our third parties and your communication preferences.

We also collect, use and share aggregated data such as statistical or demographic data which is not personal data as it does not directly (or indirectly) reveal your identity. For example, we may aggregate individuals' Usage Data to calculate the percentage of users accessing a specific website feature to analyse general trends in how users are interacting with our website to help improve the website and our service offering.

3. How is your personal data collected?

We use different methods to collect data from and about you including through:

Your interactions with us

You may give us your personal data by filling in online forms or by corresponding with us by post, phone, email or otherwise. This includes personal data you provide when you:

- apply for our services;
- create an account on our website;
- subscribe to our publications;
- request marketing to be sent to you;
- enter a survey; or
- give us feedback or contact us.

Automated technologies or interactions

As you interact with our website, we will automatically collect Technical Data about your equipment, browsing actions and patterns. We collect this personal data by using cookies, server logs and other similar technologies.

Cookies

We use cookies and similar technologies to enhance your experience on our website. These tools help us understand how visitors interact with the site, improve performance, personalize content, and deliver relevant advertisements. Cookies also support essential functions such as login authentication and security.

Third parties or publicly available sources

We will receive personal data about you from various third parties and public sources as set out below:

Technical Data is collected from the following parties:

- analytics providers;
- advertising networks; and
- search information providers.

Contact, Financial and Transaction Data is collected from providers of technical, payment and delivery services. Identity and Contact Data is collected from data brokers or from publicly available sources.

4. How we use your personal data

We are required to have legal basis for collecting, using, or otherwise processing your personal data. Depending on the circumstances, we may rely on one or more of the following legal bases:

- Performance of a contract with you: Where we need to perform the contract, we are about to enter or have entered with you.
- Legitimate interests: We may use or process your personal data where it is necessary to conduct our business and pursue our legitimate interests, for example to prevent fraud and enable us to give you the best and most secure customer experience. We make sure we consider and balance any potential impact on you and your rights (both positive and negative) before we process your personal data for our legitimate interests in line with applicable laws of KSA. We do not use your personal data for activities where our interests are overridden by the impact on you (unless we have your consent or are otherwise required or permitted by law).
- Legal obligation: We may use your personal data where it is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation that we are subject to under the laws and regulations of KSA. We will identify the relevant legal obligation when we rely on this legal basis.
- Consent: We rely on consent only where we have obtained your active agreement to use your personal data for a specified purpose, for example if you subscribe to an email newsletter. You have the right to withdraw your consent at any time, and such withdrawal will not affect the lawfulness of processing carried out prior to withdrawal.

Purposes for which we will use your personal data

We have set out below, in a table format, a description of all the ways we plan to use or process the various categories of your personal data, and which of the legal bases we rely on to do so in accordance with applicable laws and regulations in KSA. We have also identified what our legitimate interests are where appropriate.

Direct marketing

During the process on our website when your personal data is collected, you will be asked to indicate your preferences or to provide your explicit consent for receiving direct marketing communications from Klaim.

We may also analyse your Identity, Contact, Technical, Usage and Profile Data to form a view which products, services and offers may be of interest to you so that we can then send you relevant marketing communications

Third-party marketing

We will get your express consent before we share your personal data with any third party for their own direct marketing purposes. Such consent will be requested for specific purposes, and you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.

Opting out of marketing

You can ask to stop sending you marketing communications at any time by following the opt-out links within any marketing communication sent to you or by contacting us at Klaim – Connect with KLAIM.

If you opt out of receiving marketing communications, you will still receive service-related communications that are essential for administrative or customer service purposes.

5. Disclosures of your personal data

We may share your personal data within the Klaim Group or third parties to whom we may choose to sell, transfer or merge parts of our business or our assets. Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this privacy policy and in accordance with applicable laws and regulations in KSA. Such sharing will be based on an appropriate legal basis, including your consent where required.

We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes and only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions, unless they are independently required to process the data under applicable law.

Klaim is committed to ethical data practices. We will never use your personal data to exploit, manipulate, or harm you in any way. All data collected is processed lawfully, fairly, and transparently, and solely for legitimate business purposes that respect your rights.

6. International transfers

We may share your personal data within the KLAIM Group. This will involve transferring your data (if you are a customer from Oman or the United Arab Emirates) to our offices in KSA where necessary for the purposes described in this policy.

Whenever we transfer your personal data to our offices in KSA, we always ensure that the minimum degree of protection is required by applicable laws and regulations in KSA. Where applicable, we also consider other data protection frameworks, such as the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the ADGM Data Protection Regulations 2021. Where required under applicable laws, we will obtain your consent prior to such transfers.

7. Data security

We have put appropriate technical and security measures in place to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorized way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a legitimate business need to know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions, and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

Klaim has implemented procedures to detect, investigate, and respond to personal data breaches in accordance with applicable data protection laws and regulations in KSA, including the EU GDPR and ADGM DPR 2021.

In the event of a personal data breach, we will take appropriate action in accordance with applicable laws, including notifying the competent authority, such as the Saudi Data and Artificial Intelligence Authority (SDAIA), and affected individuals where the breach may result in harm to personal data or to your rights and interests. Such notifications will be made without undue delay, as required by applicable law and, where feasible, within 72 hours of becoming aware of the breach. Notification will be made via:

- Email to the address associated with your account;
- Public notice on our website if direct contact is not possible;
- Other appropriate communication channels, depending on the nature and severity of the breach.

The notification will include:

- A description of the nature of the breach;
- The categories and approximate number of individuals and records affected;
- The likely consequences of the breach;
- Measures taken or proposed to address the breach and mitigate its impact;

- Contact details for further information, including how to reach our Data Protection Officer at dataprivacy@klaim.ai.

We will also notify the relevant supervisory authority within the required legal timeframe.

8. Data retention

How long will you use my personal data for?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as it is reasonably necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or reporting requirements. We may retain your personal data for a longer period in the event of a complaint or if we reasonably believe there is a prospect of litigation in respect to our relationship with you.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or other requirements.

In some circumstances we will anonymise your personal data (so that it can no longer be associated with you) for research or statistical purposes, in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you.

9. Your legal rights

You have a number of rights under data protection laws in relation to your personal data.

You have the right to:

Request access to your personal data (Subject Access Request)

This enables you to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.

Request correction of your personal data

You have the right to request that we correct any personal data that we hold about you that is inaccurate or incomplete. We may take reasonable steps to verify the accuracy of the updated information you provide before making the correction.

Request erasure of your personal data

You have the right to request the deletion or removal of your personal data in certain circumstances. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no valid reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have successfully exercised your right to object to processing (see below), where we may have processed your information unlawfully or where we are required to erase your personal data to comply with local law. Please note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request where we are required to retain your personal data for legal, regulatory, or legitimate business purposes, and we will inform you of the relevant reason where applicable, at the time of your request.

Object to processing of your personal data

Where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) as the legal basis for that particular use of your data (including carrying out profiling based on our legitimate interests). In some cases, we may demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to process your information which override your right to object.

You also have the absolute right to object at any time to the processing of your personal data for direct marketing purposes.

Request the transfer of your personal data

You have the right to request that we provide you with your personal data or transfer it to a third party you have chosen, your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format. Please note that this right only applies to automated information which you initially provided consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform a contract with you.

Request restriction of processing of your personal data

. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of your personal data in one of the following scenarios:

- If you want us to establish the data's accuracy;
- Where our use of the data is unlawful, but you do not want us to erase it;
- Where you need us to hold the data even if we no longer require it as you need it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims; or
- You have objected to our use of your data, but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate grounds to use it.

If you wish to exercise any of the rights set out above, please contact us.

No fee usually required

You will not be required to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights) under applicable data protection laws. However, we may charge a reasonable fee or refuse to act on a request where it is clearly unfounded, repetitive, or excessive. Where we refuse to comply with a request, we will inform you of the reasons where required.

What we may need from you

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

Time limit to respond

We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month. Occasionally, it could take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex, or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.

10. Contact details

If you have any questions about this privacy policy or about the use of your personal data or want to exercise your privacy rights, please contact us in the following ways:

- Email address: hello@klaim.ai

- Postal address: Klaim for Information Technology Limited, Attn: Data Protection Officer and Legal, RRMA 3141, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia
- Telephone number: +966 11 510 2972

11. Complaints

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the KSA Data Office, the relevant regulator for data protection issues. We would, however, appreciate the chance to deal with your concerns before you approach the relevant government entities, so please contact us in the first instance.

12. Changes to the privacy policy and your duty to inform us of changes

We keep our privacy policy under regular review. This version was last updated on 29 April 2026.

It is important that the personal data we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your personal data changes during your relationship with us, for example a new address or email address.

13. Third-party links

This website may include links to third-party websites, plug-ins and applications. Clicking on those links or enabling those connections may allow third parties to collect or share data about you. We do not control these third-party websites and are not responsible for their privacy statements. When you leave our website, we encourage you to read about the privacy policy of every website you visit.
